

FREE/MAN

THERE'S A STORY HERE

J. PANTHER LUGGAGE CO.

DIRECTORY

Masthead
Contact

STORIES

Atlas Edition
Kits
Features
Films
Interviews

ADVERTISE

J. Panther Luggage Co. is a young label based in New York who released a small selection of artisan-made luggage last summer. They source incredibly beautiful elements that are both handsome and hard wearing, leaving the finished product somewhat a work of art. Using 21oz Military grade canvas made in Scotland and Chicago's Horween Leather, they currently offer four models with their Ruc Tote, Life Tote, Aviator and Weekend Bag. Both versions of their Tote bags have hidden internal leather handles; one pair for carrying, one pair for over your shoulder if you need. The hardware employed, all solid brass from the D rings to the YKK Zipper or hidden clips, all prolong the life of the piece. Another to add to that impressive list is the use of bonded heavy-weight nylon thread, typically used with upholstery fabrics as it is resistant to abrasions.

Their illustrated approach is very unique with the watercolour images and blueprint style explanations. It goes without saying, that when a brand spends that much time perfecting their aesthetic, you know you are dealing with quality.

"J. Panther Luggage Co. was founded upon our passion for innovation, design classics and products that are built to last a lifetime and beyond. After design and extensive testing here in New York our bags and accessories are hand-crafted and finished by New England artisans who've been making high-end luggage for generations. Our products draw upon the exacting standards and construction methods of the pre-1960s U.S., yet are very much designed for how we live now."

| J.Panther Luggage CO.

— DARIAN HOCKING

LINKS TO THIS POST

Create a Link

Newer Post

Older Post

© FREE / MAN 2011

The discourse of this site is subject to copyright © to the authors of Free/Man. Further details here.